

$HODL, Cryptocurrency index fund

Never miss a ticket to the moon

HODL Fund is a cryptocurrency index fund which is a token itself. Based on the blockchain technology, it enables full control, transparency and instantaneous, on-demand withdrawal of the underlying crypto assets, whose value provides a guaranteed lower bound for the price of the $HODL token. We manage and secure the diversified portfolio and invest in a data-based approach.

1. Keeps track of +20 different currencies
2. Blockchain transparency. Full control over assets
3. No exit fees, no broker fees. Only 1% management fees

Blockchain transparency: 24/7 instant withdrawals

The HODL token has a built-in withdraw function in the smart-contract that enables on-demand, instantaneous, decentralized, 24/7 withdrawals. The investor automatically receives the value of their tokens in ether, which is the maximum between the price of the underlying crypto assets and the token price on exchanges.

An innovative hybrid approach

At least 80% of the fund will passively track the top 20 cryptocurrencies using traditional rebalancing formulae. Up to 20% will be allocated to ICO pre-sale investing and altcoin trading, taking advantage of the fact that we manage a significant amount of capital.

One token to HODL them all

With $HODL, the all-in-one token, you can hold 20+ cryptocurrencies with only one token. You gain exposure to the overall crypto markets, including the main cryptocurrencies but promising altcoins too. There are no broker fees, no exit fees and only 1% of management fees. All in a decentralized manner.
